Burlington's Official Plan Review: Employment Land Conversion Requests Deadline February 26, 2016

January 26, 2016

Notice: Employment Land Conversion Requests Submission Deadline: February 26, 2016

Burlington is currently assessing its employment land supply and may, through its Official Plan Review and Municipal Comprehensive Review processes, propose the conversion of some of these lands to another land use. It is important that the City assess any requests for employment conversions in a comprehensive manner to ensure the consideration of the total employment land supply and the City's ability to accommodate employment growth to 2031 and beyond.

Additional information about the employment lands work and the Council endorsed process for assessing potential employment land conversions can be accessed by clicking here or by visiting the Official Plan Review Employment Lands Study Phase 2 page.

The City received employment conversion requests in 2014 and is currently considering additional requests for a period of one month until February 26, 2016. Please submit written requests, planning justification and supporting information to:
